The NHRP network ID is a local only parameter. It is significant only to the local router and it is not transmitted in NHRP packets to other NHRP nodes. For this reason the actual value of the NHRP network ID configured on a router need not match the same NHRP network ID on another router where both of these routers are in the same NHRP domain. As NHRP packets arrive on a GRE interface, they are assigned to the local NHRP domain in the NHRP network ID that is configured on that interface.

QUESTION 2

What IPS risk rating allows the user to assign a risk weighting based on the relative importance of the system involved?

- A. Signature Fidelity Rating
- B. Mack Relevancy Rating
- C. Target Value Rating
- D. Alert Severity Rating

Correct Answer: C

Explanation: the TVR is a user-defined value that represents the user's perceived value of the target host. This allows the user to increase the risk of an event associated with a critical system and to de-emphasize the risk of an event on a low-value target. http://www.cisco.com/c/en/us/products/collateral/security/ips-4200-series-sensors/prod_white_paper0900aecd80191021.html
